Choking cash crunch

A Kannada proverb succinctly expresses the societal status of a person with his pocket jingling with cash (Duddiddavane dodappa). One who has years of dealing with people behind him has rightly remarked that if your pocket is empty, even one rupee seems costly. A lay definition of inflation being "Too much money at the command of people but the supply of consumer goods not matching the volume of cash in circulation," the dramatic measure of demonetising high denomination paper currency in the country on November 8, 2016 ostensibly to keep in check the supply of cash in the land, invited both bouquets and brickbats, depending on the varied relationships people had with cash. While at first sight it was made out that only those who had amassed wealth in hard cash unlawfully and also those flush with fake currency would be hit, subsequent debates across the board has revealed that the worse hit people were small traders in urban space and also the farming fraternity for whom cash has been a daily necessity to lead normal life.

Even as demonetisation drew flak from even common people in the country's populace because of their unpreparedness to deal with the contingency of exchanging their stock of high denomination paper currency for lower denomination notes, the Union government implemented the other dreaded measure of Goods and Services Tax (GST) on July 1, 2017 virtually adding fuel to fire raging across the country, particularly in trading circles.

Knowledge of rocket science is not required to be aware of which section of the land's population has the undisclosed custody of the nation's currency (stored in brief cases enabling easy and speedy change of hands). These well-marked shady custodians of paper currency in denominations approved by the nation's Reserve Bank of India (RBI) continue to call the shots flummoxing the top brass in the Union government, clueless on how to rein in the offending flock. The latest combined fallout of demonetisation by the government and clandestine continued hoarding of currency by you-know-who is countrywide cash crunch, with Automated Teller Machines (ATMs) running empty and banks resorting to rationing of currency delivery to their account holders.

If the abrupt shortfall in the total volume of currency in the country means that the pockets of people at large are no longer jingling with money, one may fondly hope that inflation may not hurt them more than at present. The ongoing cash crunch prompts one to cite the Voltaire (1694-1778) quote that everything happens for the good of somebody. Example: When famine happens, vultures feast on corpses.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Actor-turned-politician and rebel Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) MP Shatrughan Sinha took on the National Democratic Alliance government over the current cash crunch saying, "Ali Baba aur chalis choron ki yeh sarkar hai." Sinha, a known critic of the government at the Centre, said, "I am afraid that owing to the cash crunch, the government in haste will now make one nation and 40 taxes." Adding that he will not quit the BJP and it was up to the party to throw him out, he said, "Jeena yahan marna yahan, iske siva jana kahan." Congress leader Renuka Chowdhury, referring to the spate of rapes in the country, said these days Police ask "Kitne aadmi thhe" when such a case is reported. — In Business Standard

Burgers made of buffalo worms

Aachen: Supermarket shoppers in the western German city of Aachen have stepped out of their comfort zone to sample insect burgers made of buffalo worms.

The worms, highly nutritious due to their high protein content, are the larvae of buffalo beetles and are bred in the Netherlands. Served in rolls with lettuce, onions and tomatoes, they are being offered to customers at a supermarket in Aachen. Two burgers made of buffalo worms (Alphitobius Diaperinus) by a German food start-up "BugFoundation" are placed during its première in a supermarket in Aachen, Germany. Baris Oezel, one of the founders of the start-up spent four years working on the concept along with company co-founder Max Kraemer. "We have people who are totally thrilled to find out about the whole thing and have been looking forward to it for days," said Michael Reinartz, Manager of a Rewe supermarket in Aachen where the burgers are now being sold.

Doctor arrested for writing article on medicine

Guangzhou: A young 39-year-old, Chinese doctor was recently set free after spending three month in jail for claiming that a certain brand of medicinal wine was toxic and couldn't cure heart disease and arthritis, as the manufacturer claimed.

It all started last December, when Guangzhou-based physician Tan Qindong published a short article on Chinese social media platform Meipian, stating that the popular Hongmao Medicinal Wine was not only toxic, but also ineffective in treating serious heart conditions and arthritis, as advertised by the manufacturer. His post apparently drew a lot of attention, as Hongmao soon filed a defamation lawsuit against the doctor.

On January 10, 2018, an unsuspecting Dr. Tan was taken from his home in Guangzhou by Police, taken to Inner Mongolia – where the maker of Hongmao is based – 2,300 km away, and thrown in jail without actually being charged.

VOICE OF THE READER

Tribute to Student-Teacher

Sir,

The recent death of well-known Kannada writer Dr. K. Prabhushankar took my memory back to my High School days. A new High School was started in 1949-50 at the initiative of the famous Sahukar S. Channaiah and his associates, naming it as Vidyavardhaka High School.

In their enthusiasm to open the School immediately, they started it initially in a Choultry, known as Yalakkappachar-Thimmiachar Choultry on Irwin Road, to help the students of the surrounding areas who could not get admission in bigger High Schools. It was then, perhaps, Dr. Prabhushankar, who himself was a PG student in Kannada at Maharaja's College, was asked to take Kannada classes in the new School. I was the first student of that school and in later years my contacts with him grew. I cherish the time spent with him, particularly during our morning walks in Manasagangothri when we were living close-by in Jayalakshmipuram.

How can I forget him in the midst of elderly Scholar Group exercising, chit chatting and listening to humorous episodes under the Heritage Pupil Tree in Gangothri campus where now a Buddha statue is installed. A rare person is missing from our midst. RIP.

Not upset by BJP move in denying me Varuna ticket: B.Y. Vijayendra

Mysuru, Apr. 25 (SBD&BCT)- B.Y. Vijayendra, son of BJP State President B.S. Yeddyurappa, who was denied ticket from Varuna constituency and had become incommunicado after the political storm hit the party, yesterday said that he was not pained about being out of the poll fray and "happily accepted" the Central leadership's decision.

"I bow to the decision and will work for the victory of the party's candidate. I will remain in Varuna and work on strengthening the party," he said.

In a hurriedly called press conference at Hotel President in city yesterday, Vijayendra, who appeared in front of the media for the first time after the high drama for over two days, said the decision of top leaders has to be accepted, not questioned.

"I have toured every nook and corner of Varuna for more than a month and have conducted extensive campaigns for the party. Nowhere have I declared myself as the party candidate. So the question of me being upset does not arise. I will strictly abide by the directives of the High Command," he said.

"People of Varuna have showered their immense love for me and treated me like their son. I can never forget their affection. I will be in Varuna and there is no question of my moving out of the house that I have rented out in Varuna," he said and added that his house in Varuna will be like a party office where strategies will be chalked out.

B.Y. Vijayendra, who was denied the BJP ticket from Varuna Constituency, is seen addressing a press Conference at Hotel President in city yesterday. Also seen are (from left) ZP member Sadananda, Karnataka Pradesh Hotel Owners Association President and BJP leader M. Rajendra and BJP Slum Morcha General Secretary R. Raghu Kautilya.

On the ruckus created by party workers after he was denied ticket, Vijayendra said they were probably hurt by the decision as they had been campaigning for him for days.

"They expressed their anger and disappointment, but they have to accept the decision. I will comfort and pacify them to resume campaigning," he added.

"A large number of BJP workers and supporters had assembled at Nanjangud on Monday as they had hoped that the party would announce the candidate. They were emotionally charged when the High Command pronounced the decision and this led to commotion. I have been pained as many of my party workers had to face the lathi charge. I am not upset as the party has denied me a ticket," Vijayendra said.

Dismissing suggestions that he was made a scapegoat in the episode, he said he was one of the 15 ticket aspirants from Varuna. Asked whether the constituency had lost its high-profile status in the poll battle, he said the party was still in the reckoning though he was out of the race. He expressed confidence that the BJP would win in Varuna.

"Now that Thotadappa Basavaraju is the party candidate, we all will work towards his victory and ensure that Chief Minister Siddharamaiah's son Dr. Yathindra is defeated," he said.

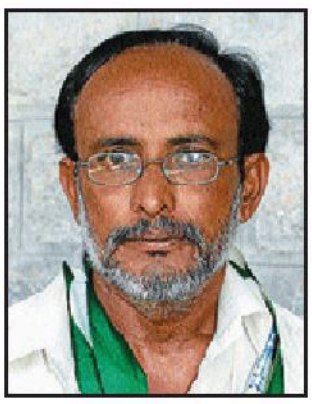
Mandya's '5-rupee' doctor files nomination

Mandya, Apr. 25- Popularly called as the '5-rupee Doctor,' Dr. S.C. Shankaregowda filed his nomination papers for the Mandya Assembly constituency as an independent candidate on Monday.

The election officers were surprised when he deposited a packet of Rs.5 coins as security deposit amounting to Rs.10,000 along with his nomination papers. The Officers were very frustrated as they had to count so many coins. The Returning Officer (RO) handed over the packet to his junior officer to count.

Meanwhile, his advocate Keshavamurthy advised him that it will be late if the officers start counting the coins. Hence the advocate suggested him to pay the deposit amount in currency notes following which Dr. Shankaregowda paid the deposit money in cash and filed the nomination papers.

Later, addressing the media, Dr. Gowda said that he was aware of the problems in the Constituency.



Dr. S.C. Shankaregowda

He further said that along with solving the problems he also had to work for the development of the Constituency and he had the people's support and hence decided to contest.

"I will not withdraw from the fray even if there is pressure on me to back out," he categorically stated.

Reacting to the deposit money he had brought in Rs.5 coins, he said that he had been practising since past 35 years and was charging only Rs. 5. Hence, he brought only those coins.

Dr. Shankaregowda came in a procession with his supporters from Sir M. Visvesvaraya Circle to the Taluk Office and filed the papers with RO Chidanand.

UoM suspends two professors for canvassing for Congress

Mysuru, Apr. 25 - The University of Mysore (UoM) has suspended two of its professors for campaigning in favour of Congress party.

The Mysuru Deputy Commissioner, who is also the District Electoral Officer, had directed the University to initiate action against Prof. B.P. Mahesh Chandra Guru of the Department of Mass Communication and Journalism and Prof. Aravinda Malagatti of Kuvempu Institute of Kannada Studies (KIKS) for publicly canvassing for the Congress and Chief Minister Siddharamaiah, recently.

At a programme titled 'Janarajakarana,' organised by some organisations at Ramakrishnanagar Circle near the statue of Ramakrishna Paramahamsa to galvanise support for the Congress party, they had circulated pamphlets seeking support for Siddharamaiah and his government.

Prof. Aravinda Malagatti

Prof. B.P. Mahesh Chandra Guru

The then Deputy Commissioner K.B. Sivakumar (now transferred), who was the District Electoral Officer, had written a letter in this regard to the University authorities (acting Vice-Chancellor) to initiate disciplinary action against them.

At the event, both Mahesh Chandra Guru and Aravinda Malagatti openly canvassed for Congress party and were on the dais where political speeches were delivered. As government employees, they are not supposed to canvass for any political party and rules prevent them from indulging in any political activity.

Following the letter from the Electoral Officer, UoM Registrar D. Bharathi had issued show-cause notices to the professors. As the response from the professors was not satisfactory, they had been suspended, said the Registrar.

P.C. Jaffer is new Hassan DC

Randeep shifted again

Hassan, Apr. 25 - Amid poll process, Hassan district got its third Deputy Commissioner (who is the District Electoral Officer) in less than 10 days after the State government, under directions from the Election Commission, posted senior IAS Officer and Commissioner of Public Instruction P.C. Jaffer to replace D. Randeep.

"He (Randeep) took charge of Hassan district and we were not informed. He took charge based on the Court order. Ideally, the Court order should have been interpreted by the Department of Personnel and Administrative Reforms (DPAR) and DPAR should have taken the Election Commission's concurrence because Election Model Code of Conduct is in place. He went and took charge, which is not the proper way," Chief Electoral Officer Sanjiv Kumar told pressperson in Bengaluru yesterday.

Incidentally, Randeep had taken charge as Hassan DC on April 17.

Though he had been transferred to the post in March, he, however, could not take charge as the then DC, Rohini Sindhuri Dasari, got a stay from Central Administrative Tribunal (CAT), citing political pressure. When CAT asked her to submit her plea to the Karnataka Chief Secretary, she moved the High Court, which directed the CAT to hear her plea again. The CAT, on April 17, upheld the State government's order and asked Randeep to take charge.

Yesterday Randeep had scheduled a visit to the check-posts set up to keep tabs on any violation of model code of conduct and hold a media briefing.

However, when he got the information about his transfer he cancelled his official visits and the media briefing. Randeep the told reporters, "Yes, I have received the transfer order."

When asked if he would be challenging it, the officer said, "I have the highest respect for the State government and the Election Commission. I will abide by the direction."

In this week's Pet Talk, Maneka explains causes of indoor urination in house-trained dogs.

Pet Talk

Maneka Gandhi

My dog has a lump on his right ear. Is it a tumour?

It is not unusual to find lumps and bumps on dogs, especially when they enter their senior years. The most important thing to remember is to seek the medical advice of an experienced veterinarian. Most veterinarians will call a lump, or bump, a growth, mass or a tumour. These terms do not indicate whether it is malignant or benign. So, don't panic. Get more information before you reach any conclusions.

In most cases, your vet will recommend additional diagnostics to try and determine whether the mass is malignant or benign. Your vet typically collects these samples via fine needle aspirate or biopsy. If a malignant tumour, additional diagnostics will most likely be recommended.

Sometimes the lump is simply a haematoma — a bump which has led to the accumulation of blood. This will settle down with medicines.

What to do about a whining dog?

Just like barking and growling, your dog's whining is a way of communicating. Whining is especially common in puppies. It is a way of seeking attention and food from their mother (or their owner). It is often pretty obvious why a dog is whining. She may be begging for food or asking to be let in or out of the house. Go through the potential reasons, for the whining, to decide how to proceed. Never punish your dog for whining, as that can make a fearful or anxious dog even more stressed out. There are many fears and phobias which affect dogs. If you can determine the reason for her fear or anxiety, you may be able to work on training and desensitising her so that she can get over them.

What are the treatments for canine arthritis?

Treatment for arthritis in dogs is geared towards reducing pain and maintaining muscle mass and joint mobility. A combination of treatments can be used to treat this condition.

- Exercise and weight management (leash walking, mild controlled jogging, swimming etc.).
- Pharmaceutical medications: non-steroidal anti-inflammatory medication (NSAIDs) are the most commonly used classes of drugs for arthritis pain.
- Nutraceutical supplements.
- Acupuncture and massage therapies.
- Stem cell therapy.
- Surgical alternatives.

What to do if your dog bites someone?

Take the following steps: Remain calm

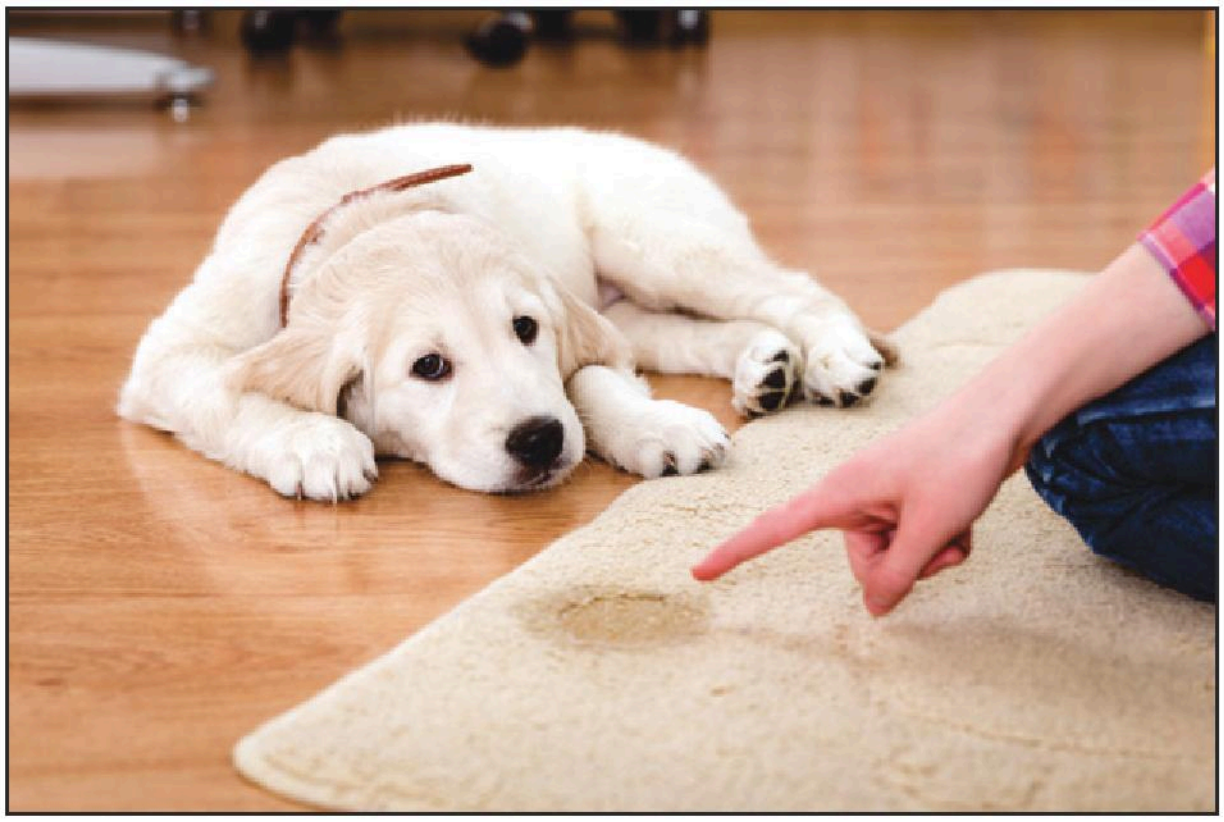
- Confine your dog to a crate or another room.
- Help the bite victim wash the wound thoroughly with warm, soapy water.
- Be courteous and sympathetic to the bite victim. Avoid laying blame or getting defensive.
- Contact a medical professional for the bite victim. Offer to pay for the medical assistance.
- Offer to contact a friend or family member for the victim.
- Exchange contact information with the victim.
- If there were witnesses, obtain their contact information.
- Show them your dog's medical records.

Why is my dog peeing in house?

The causes of indoor urination in house-trained dogs can be split into:

1. Urinary incontinence: The dog may have accidents in the house, but these are often 'spots' of urine rather than puddles. There is a simple distinguishing feature of urinary incontinence as opposed to other causes: the dog will pee on herself and in her bed. This single sign implies a lack of control of bladder emptying.

2. There are many conditions which will cause an increase in urine output, which can cause such frequent urination as to break a dog's house-training. There are a number of features of this group of problems:



- Your dog will be drinking more to compensate for fluid loss.
- The 'accidents' are usually large puddles.

The primary problem; could be if coupled with other symptoms: weight loss (Diabetes mellitus, Addison's disease, renal failure), increased appetite (Diabetes mellitus, Cushing's disease), or decreased appetite (Addison's disease, renal failure). The urine which is produced is usually not offensive unless there is a secondary bacterial infection of the urinary tract.

Excessive thirst is a symptom not to be ignored, and it is important your pet gets a thorough diagnosis from your veterinary surgeon.

3. Lower urinary tract disease: Take a urine sample in a clean sterilised bottle. For a bacterial bladder infection a single course of antibiotic may be sufficient, but for urinary stones it is very often necessary to keep your pet on a specific diet for the rest of his/her life. Most of these conditions are very treatable, but can lead to serious complications if not recognised and treated promptly.

4. Behavioural causes: Urine marking is distinct from medical causes of indoor urination in that it is often performed in a conspicuous area, possibly at a doorway or on an item of furniture. The root cause of urine marking, in a previously well-trained dog, is usually insecurity of some sort. This is often something as simple as the introduction of new furniture to the dog's living area, or may be something more significant like the introduction of a new baby or pet to the house. By urinating in the house, your dog is following an instinctive urge to mark and reinforce his claim to 'his' territory.

If the behaviour occurs consistently in one spot, it makes sense to exclude your pet from this area by locking him out or using a deterrent. If you catch him in the act of urinating indoors, creating a noise or calling his name as a distraction, is a useful ploy. It is important not to over-react to the situation, as with an insecure dog this is only likely to make matters worse.

How to choose the right dog bowl?

Don't touch plastic. Either get a stainless steel bowl, or a good quality ceramic bowl. Ceramic cracks if not washed with care . Choose a high quality, lead-free dog bowl.

A raised dog feeder is known to help the digestive system of your dog along with preventing many health defects that can come along with eating out of a normal dish. For example, Dog Bloat (twisting of the stomach) and mega-oesophagus (food goes into oesophagus). Both these health conditions are fatal. Also, a higher dog feeder can be cleaner to maintain as your dog will not drop as much food on the floor. When your dog is eating from a raised feeder he will be more comfortable and will have better body posture.

Brightening up Electorates Mind

Mysuru, Apr.25 (YDS&NNN)- A mega voters' awareness rally was taken out from different parts of the city and volunteers formed a human chain and took out a torchlight parade at K.R. Circle yesterday. The event was organised by the District Administration.

Voting is your right, let it not be wasted, voting means just not pressing the button, it is for the progress of the country, vote and save democracy, farmers are the backbone of the country, honest voter is this country's sutradar, were some of the slogans, the volunteers raised to create awareness about voting.

The Election Commission of India set up SVEEP (Systematic Voters' Education and Electoral Participation), a programme of multi-interventions through different modes and media, designed to educate citizens, electors and voters about the electoral process in order to increase their awareness and participation in the electoral process.

According to a recent survey the voting pattern in the urban areas is decreasing when compared to the rural areas. Hence, to create awareness, sportspersons, students, Anganwadi workers, Police trainees and the public participated in the mega rally.

The awareness rally was divided into four batches and the first batch began the rally from Deputy Commissioner's Office, the second from K.R. Hospital, the third from Chamundi Vihar Stadium and the fourth one from Basaveshwara Circle. The volunteers of all the four batches staged street plays and created awareness about the voting, before they reached K.R. Circle.

Torchlight procession amidst rain: The four groups of rallyists with more than 1,000 participants formed a human chain at K.R. Circle. By then it had started raining. Even amidst the rain, the CAR and DAR Police held the torchlight procession, creating voter awareness.

Zilla Panchayat (ZP) Chief Executive Officer (CEO) P. Shivashankar, speaking on the occasion, said that the voter turnout in the urban areas is going down. In order to increase their participation in this election, lot of voter awareness programmes are being organised and one of the efforts is the current one with the participation of students, taking out torchlight procession and forming human chain, he added.

In the urban areas there was only 56 percent voting. This time it is going to go up to a minimum 70 percent. Apart from this, awareness is being created in every taluk and village, he said.

ZP Dy. Secretary Shivakumaraswamy, MCC Commissioner K.H. Jagadish, SVEEP Secretary Krishna, Information Department Assistant Director Raju, Department of Youth Empowerment and Sports (DYES) Assistant Director K. Suresh, Renukamma of Backward Classes Welfare Department and others were present.

After lunch and some rest, Mayawati will proceed towards the Maharaja's College Grounds at 3.30 pm.

Mayawati enjoys Z Plus Category security and when she was in power in UP, over 400 armed commandos in 40 armoured vehicles guarded her wherever she went. Now with the change in government in the northern State, the security has been reduced. But she still enjoys Z Plus security.

Today when she arrived at the hotel in city, over four gun-toting commandos, accompanied by officers dressed in black attire, guarded her and a separate team was guarding her plane at Mandakalli. It is Mayawati's third visit to Mysuru region. She had visited Mysuru in 2008 and campaigned for a BSP candidate and also campaigned for the party candidate in Kollegal in 2013.

Though the security officials did not permit the local JD(S) and BSP leaders to receive Mayawati at the Mysore Airport, she was received at Hotel Radisson Blu Plaza by MLA G.T. Devegowda, Narasimharaja JD(S) candidate Abdul Azeez, Chamaraja JD(S) candidate Prof. K.S. Rangappa, Hunsur JD(S) candidate A.H. Vishwanath and Kollegal BSP candidate Mahesh.

Along with Mayawati, her trusted aides MP Dr. Ashok Siddharth who is in-charge of Karnataka, G.P. Upasak and Rajya Sabha Member Satish Chandra Mishra have also arrived and the leaders are expected to hold a series of meetings today to chalk out strategies that will benefit both JD(S) and BSP.

At the Maharaja's College Grounds, a huge stage has been set up and only VIPs will be allowed on the stage. Over 25,000 chairs have been laid for the people to participate in the rally. BSP symbol the elephant and the blue colour is dominating the venue. The stage has a banner that portrays "Kumara Parva", the campaign slogan of the JD(S). After the rally at Maharaja's College Grounds, Mayawati will fly to Bengaluru and tomorrow she will proceed towards Chitradurga.

Election rally at Maharaja's Grounds

The Maharaja's College Grounds spruced up for the mega rally where BSP President Mayawati will seek votes for the candidates of her alliance partner JD(S). Nearly 25,000 chairs have been arranged for the public.

Self-styled Godman Asaram found guilty of raping teen in 2013

New Delhi, Apr. 25 - Self-styled godman Asaram was found guilty of the rape of a teenager in 2013, ruled a special trial court this morning in its verdict. Of the total five accused, three - including Asaram - were convicted, and two were acquitted.

The verdict was pronounced from Jodhpur Central Jail, where Asaram is lodged. This move was due to the fear of adverse reactions from Asaram's followers, and a repeat of the violence that followed the verdict in the Gurmeet Ram Rahim case last August.

Asaram, who's been in jail since Aug. 31, 2013, was accused of sexual assault on a 16-year-old girl at his ashram in Manai village near Jodhpur, Rajasthan. The girl, who's from Uttar Pradesh, was living in the ashram as a student. She alleged that Asaram called her to his ashram in Manai area near Jodhpur and raped her on the night of Aug. 15, 2013.

Asaram was charged under sections of the Protection of Children from Sexual Offences (POCSO) Act and the Scheduled Castes and Tribes (Prevention of Atrocities) Act.

CM Siddharamaiah to conclude campaign at Chamundeshwari tonight

Mysuru, Apr.25 (RKB&NNN)- Chief Minister Siddharamaiah, after filing his nomination in the second Constituency, Badami in Bagalkot District of North Karnataka yesterday, landed at Mysore Airport in Mandakalli here this morning to continue his campaigning in Chamundeshwari Constituency.

Addressing the media soon after his arrival, the CM expressed great confidence in winning from Badami as he had received tremendous response from the people while filing his nomination.

Replying to a barrage of questions from media, he said that he would campaign in Chamundeshwari Constituency and would conclude it today by 10 pm before moving to other parts of the State.

"AICC (All India Congress Committee) President Rahul Gandhi will start his road show from tomorrow in Uttara Kannada district and a few other places before halting for the night at Murudeshwar. On Apr.27, he will campaign in Mangaluru, Bantwal, Dharmasthala, Gonikoppa and Periyapatna and fly out of Mysuru. He will not campaign in Mysuru this time," said Siddharamaiah.

The CM said that he had already toured and campaigned in 150 Constituencies in the State and would visit the remaining Constituencies in the coming days. "I will go to Badami, may be for one more time, to campaign," he said.

Asked about BSP Supremo Mayawati's visit to the city today and her capacity to woo the Dalit voters in favour of JD(S), he said that the Dalit votes in Karnataka is always in favour of Congress and her campaigning would not make a difference to his party.

On BJP State President B.S. Yeddyurappa's son B.Y. Vijayendra being denied the ticket to contest against his (Siddharamaiah) son Dr. Yathindra in Varuna Constituency, he said that Congress would win irrespective of the candidate fielded against his son.

To a question on the wave of Prime Minister Narendra Modi and BJP National President Amit Shah once they start campaigning, the CM said that the Congress had campaigners equal to match them like Rahul Gandhi, Mallikarjuna Kharge, KPCC President Dr. G. Parameshwara and others who are capable of countering Modi and Shah.

He said that BJP had deliberately fielded a weak candidate in Chamundeshwari, while in Badami, JD(S) had fielded a weak one and the only reason for this was the internal understanding between the BJP and the JD(S) to defeat the Congress.

Reacting to MLA M.H. Ambarish refusing to contest and whether it would affect the party, he said that since he (Ambarish) himself had given health issues as a reason, it would not affect the Party's prospects, he said.

To another question on two Professors of University of Mysore, Prof. Mahesh Chandra Guru and Prof. Aravinda Malagatti being suspended, he said that all they had done was participate in a meeting of 'Save Democracy' which was a private function and they had not done anything wrong as they were just expressing their opinion in a democratic manner.

When the media asked a pointed question about election survey, he said, "I do not believe in such surveys. I have been in politics for quite long and I understand the pulse of the people. Just by taking a sample survey of 4,000 people they cannot predict the results correctly."

On his JD(S) rival and State JD(S) President H.D. Kumaraswamy's claim of becoming the Chief Minister again, he ridiculed and said that it was only his dream which would remain unfulfilled.

Siddharamaiah later left for campaigning in Chamundeshwari Constituency on a road show where he is visiting Kamanakerehundi, Hale Kesare, Jayadevanagar, Ekalavyanagar, Shyadanahalli, Naganahalli, Lakshmipura, Kalasthawadi, Siddalingapura, K.R. Mills Colony, Belavatta, RBI Colony and Hinkal villages.

Heavy rain damages 35 tribal houses at Periyapatna

Periyapatna, Apr. 25 (HDR& BCT)- Over 35 houses that were built by the State Government for tribals living at the border areas of the forest were damaged last night due to heavy rain that pounded Periyapatna and surrounding areas. Most of the houses at Uthanahalli Girijana Colony had asbestos sheets as the roof and gusty winds blew the sheets away that were not fixed properly.

Heavy rain, accompanied by thunder, lightning and winds which began at about 6 pm lasted till about 7.30 pm and it left a trail of destruction. While asbestos sheets of most of the houses flew away, the houses that had tiled roofs developed cracks.

Most of the tiles crumbled into the rooms of the houses and fortunately no one was injured. The houses built by the Panchayat has been completely destroyed with no chance of repairs.

Food grains, vegetables and other perishable items that were stored inside the houses were destroyed and over 100 people including women and children had to sleep on an empty stomach as there was no way for them to cook. They took shelter at the primary school near the colony.

Villagers alleged that the houses were built for them under the rehabilitation package and the Tribal Development Coordination Committee had spent Rs. 2 lakh to Rs. 3 lakh per house. "The houses were built with mud and asbestos sheets were fixed as roof.

These sheets have not been fixed properly and the walls have developed cracks. We fear for our lives and how can we live in such houses in monsoon," the tribals asked.

Tribals have alleged that the contractors hired by the Tribal Development Coordination Committee and the Panchayat had undertaken sub-standard works and had hoodwinked the government by presenting inflated bills while the actual construction cost was much less.

This morning, a team of officials led by Tribal Development Department Officer Ramegowda visited some of the houses and assured the tribals that their houses will be repaired.

128th Sri Ramanavami Music Festival

Unfolding rich repertory of songs and ragas

Vidu. Vasudha Keshav presented a vocal concert as part of the 128th Sri Rama Navami Music Festival organised by Sri Ramabhyudaya Sabha Charitable Trust at Alamma Choultry, Devaraja Mohalla, in city recently.

She was accompanied by Vid. Mathoor Srinidhi on violin, Vid. B.C. Manjunath on mridanga and Vid. Manjunath on ghata.

A product of the Mysore School of Music, Vasudha had training under the able guidance of her aunts, Vidu. Mahalaskhmi and Vidu. Yadugiri, both of whom are A-Grade artistes of AIR (Akashvani). After her marriage to Keshav, a bank officer, Vasudha shifted to Chennai where also she continued with her music.

Vidu. Vasudha commenced her programme with a varnam 'Swamy Nenu' in Raga Kedaragoula, a brisk and neat rendering with appropriate support from the accompanists. Then followed the famous inaugural Krithi of Thyagayya's Pancharatnas, namely 'Jagadananda Karaka' in 'Nata' raga. The speed with which this kriti unfolds itself in the various Charanas is commendable and Vidu. Vasudha did full justice to it in her rendering. This also unfolded the rich repertory of songs and ragas that had been planned by the artiste for the concert and the audience were assured of a rich menu.

The next song was 'Teliya Ledu Rama Bhakthi Margamu' in Raga 'Dhenuka' very well sung. An elegant and short Swara prasthara followed for this. The above was followed by 'Mamava Raghurama' in Raga 'Saranga' coming out quickly.

'Ritigoula' was given a short Alapana and followed by the popular 'Janani Ninnu Vina,' Vidu. Vasudha gave a splendid rendering to this number. A detailed swara prasthara followed and the accompanists gave support in their own way. It was a fine output by any standard.

'Anupama Gunambudhi' in raga 'Atana' followed quickly and in its rendering I was reminded of the giant of a musician, Ariyakudi Ramanuja Iyengar (a Gayaka Samrat) who always included this number in his programme. [A short deviation: the last I heard Ariyakudi was at Shanmukhananda Sabha in 1963 at Bombay where, for the inauguration of its new building in Sion (Bombay), three music programmes were arranged (three-day function), the other two artistes being the legendary M.S. and Ustad Ghulam Ali Khan. What a great trio and what a wonderful and memorable concerts in a row, they were.

'Kambodhi' was chosen for R.T.P. and Vidu. Vasudha did full justice in its rendering, tearing out the strands of the Alapana in full measure though, on very few occasions her throat could not match the higher octaves in full measure. The 'Sri Raghuvara Bhaje' for the pallavi and the Swaraprasthara were elegant and maximum support was provided by all the three accompanying artists. Then followed 'Hari Chitha Sathya' in Raga 'Jonpuri', brilliantly sung.

A sloka 'Sri Raghavam Dasarathathmaja Maprameyam' was taken up for full delineation by Vidu. Vasudha, the raga was 'Purvi' and the second and third stanzas were respectively sung in Ragas 'Sindhu Bhairavi' and 'Ananda Bhairavi'. Concert marked with classical flavour

Sangeeta Shivkumar presenting a music concert on the 7th day of the music series held at Bhagini Seva Samaja, Mysuru. She is accompanied by Ananta Krishnan on mridanga, Sunad Anoor on khanjira and Vitthala Rangan her on violin.

By Dr. Padmavathi Narasimhan

Sangeeta Shivkumar sang on the 7th day of the music series held at Bhagini Seva Samaja, Mysuru.

Vitthala Rangan accompanied her on violin, Ananta Krishnan on mridanga and Sunad Anoor on khanjira.

Trained under Charumati Ramachandran, senior disciple of MLV and also under her husband T.M. Krishna, Sangeeta's music is marked by classicism and clarity. Her present concert was centred on Kritis on Rama and many compositions of Mysore vaggeyakaras — for example, the starting number, a daru varna 'Mate Malayadhwaja' in Kamas by Muttiah Bhagavatar rendered energetically, 'Bhajana Seya raada' in Dharmavati by Mysore Vasudevacharya, 'Jaya Jaya Janaki Kanta' by Purandara Dasaru, suffixed with short swaras to the pallavi and the very popular 'Bhajare Manasa Shree Raghuveeram' in Abheri (Mysore Vasudevacharya) sung by almost all the outside musicians in the series, in addition to a couple of compositions of Tyagaraja.

There was a brief obstruction during the concert due to rain causing the audience to run for shelter to the corridors of the school building, but the artiste took it well and continued to perform. The raga essay of Dharmavati stood out for its classical flavour. Vitthala Rangan was his usual best. 'Bhajana Seya Raada' emerged with a detailed neraval at 'Niravadhi Sukha Dayaka', supported aptly by Anoor ji. 'Vachamagocharame manasa', a filler in Kaikavashi by Tyagaraja was perhaps the wrong choice soon after Dharmavati as the swaras had too much in common. (only 'd' was different).

Madhyamavati was the centre of attraction. The raga was rendered beautifully, in which the skill of the vocalist was evident. The alapana was outstanding in which she brought out the known and rare features of the raga to the fore. Vitthala's take of the raga matched the excellence of the vocalist. Taniyavartanam by Anoor ji and his nephew Sunad was riveting and delightful.

The artiste could have structured the concert to begin the main item by 7.30 latest instead of 8.30 as the concert could close only at 10 pm by which time the number of the audience was almost reduced to nil. The post-tani part of the concert included the well-known devaranama 'Baro Krishniah' by Kanakadasaru and a tillana.

Ambarish breaks silence; opts out of poll fray citing health

Bengaluru, Apr. 25 (KMS& BCT)- In a major setback to Congress, actor-turned-politician M.H. Ambarish rejected the party's request to contest the May 12 Assembly polls from his hometown Mandya.

His announcement came yesterday after he played hide-and-seek with Congress leaders for the last few days. He has decided to stay away from the party's campaign on "health grounds."

Sixty-six-year-old Ambarish broke his silence over his decision to not contest from Mandya after the party gave the 'B Form' to Ravikumar Ganiga yesterday, the last day for filing nominations. Ganiga runs a local TV channel. He filed the nomination from the constituency at the eleventh hour.

Congress had announced Ambarish's name and had even sent a 'B Form' to his house. During the last few days, many senior Congress leaders, including Chief Minister Siddharamaiah had tried to convince him.

"I am not contesting the elections and will also not campaign for any candidate," said Ambarish, also known as Rebel Star in the Kannada film industry. "I have not suggested any names to the party and why will I campaign for others?" he shot back when asked if he would campaign for Congress candidates. "It is easy to ask votes for me, but it is different to seek vote for other candidates," he added.

Citing health reasons for not contesting the polls, the former Minister said, "I was treated in Singapore hospital four years back and age is also a factor. Also, I cannot justify my duty (as an elected representative)," he said. Ambarish said that he had decided not to contest the elections a few months ago, but he had not formally responded to the Congress which had given him ticket to contest from Mandya.

His staying away from the campaign in Mandya district is likely to benefit the Janata Dal (Secular) to an extent as the Mandya Congress would virtually be left with no senior Vokkaliga leader with veteran S.M. Krishna in the BJP and Ambarish remaining away.

Earlier in the day, as a final call, KPCC President Dr. G. Parameshwara had sought a meeting with Ambarish. However, Ambarish did not turn up. Left with no option on the last day for filing nominations, the party gave the 'B Form' to Ganiga.

On Chief Minister Siddharamaiah's decision to contest the elections from two constituencies — Chamundeshwari and Badami, Ambarish said, "Being a Chief Minister he (Siddharamaiah) could have contested from only Chamundeshwari to prove the popularity of his 'Bhagya' schemes."

K.G. Bopaiah of BJP files nomination from Virajpet

Seetharam, also as a rebel Congress candidate and Advocate Appachanda Girish, Girijan leader P.S. Mutha and local leader Fayaz, all as Independents.

Speaking after filing nomination, rebel Congress candidate Padmini Ponnappa said that she had been a Congress party ticket aspirant 2008, 2013 and now also. However, she was denied the ticket on all the 3 occasions and as such, she was contesting the election as a rebel candidate with an intention of serving the people.

Kodagu District Minister Personal Secretary Harish Bopanna, who also filed his nomination as a rebel Congress candidate, said that he had hoped for the Congress ticket. But the Congress had denied him the ticket, which has deeply hurt him.

Explaining his efforts for the formation of Ponnampet and Kushalnagar taluks, he said that he was hopeful of the people recognising his services.

Miscreants make futile bids to snatch gold chains in Saraswathipuram

WORD OF THE DAY

Cachinnate

Pronunciation: Cach•in•nate (verb)

Meaning: To laugh loudly or immoderately.

Origin: Cachinnate has been whooping it up in English since the 19th century. The word derives from the Latin verb cachinnare, meaning "to laugh loudly," and "cachinnare" was probably coined in imitation of a loud laugh. As such, "cachinnare" is much like the Old English "ceahhetan," the Old High German kachazzen, and the Greek kachazein - all words of imitative origin that essentially meant "to laugh loudly." Our word cackle has a different ancestor than any of these words (the Middle English "cakelen"), but this word, too, is believed to have been modelled after the sound of laughter.

THE ODD WORD

Cavili

Make petty or unnecessary objections or to raise trivial and frivolous objection.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

A miss is as good as a mile

Meaning: A [narrow] miss is as bad as a wide miss - they are both misses.

Origin: This phrase dates back from the18th century. The first example of it that I can find in print is from the USA, in the journal The American Museum, Volume 3, 1788: A smart repartee... will carry you through with eclat such as, 'a miss is as good as a mile'. The expression may or may not be American in origin, but the root source is certainly the British Isles. Similar expressions were in circulation there more than a century earlier; for example, this piece from William Camden's Remaines of a Greater Worke Concerning Britaine, 1614: An ynche in a misse is as good as an ell. [An ell is a now obsolete English measure of length, equalling about 45 inches.]. Camden's version is clearly essentially the same phrase as 'a miss is as good as a mile', the dimensions being those of the early 17th century. The expression was also considered proverbial in Scotland by the 18th century, where James Kelly included it in A Complete Collection of Scotish Proverbs, 1721: An Inch of a miss is as good as a span. Kelly wrote 'span' as 'spaw', but it is clear what he meant - a span is the distance from the tip of the thumb to the tip of the little finger of a man's hand, usually formalised as 9 inches. Perhaps more recent changes in dimensions will lead us to 'a miss is as good as a kilometre'. Until then, we will have to make do with the American 'close but no cigar'.

'Heidi,' a 2015 movie which is based on the novel of the same name by Johanna Spyri, is a story of a young orphan girl named Heidi. After living for several years with her Aunt Dete, Heidi is brought to live in the mountains with her elderly grandfather Alpöhi. She quickly makes friends with goat-herd Peter, a boy just a little older than her. For the next few years Heidi grows up happy with her grandfather and Peter. Some time later Aunt Dete returns and tricks Heidi into running away with her to Frankfurt to become a companion to a young girl Klara in an upper-class family townhouse. In the end though the desire to go back to the open spaces of the mountains becomes too strong for a homesick Heidi and Klara's father returns her to her grandfather, much to Klara's sadness.
